ALL EYES ON HAWAII

Anxiety Exists as to What Has Taken Place There.

HAS THE QUEEN BEEN RESTORED

United States Minister Willis Has Been in Honolulu a Week and Has Had Time to Carry Into Effect the Instructions He Took With Him From Washington, and Which Have So Far Been Kept a Secret. The Arrival of the Next Steamer, Which Is Due in San Francisco Next Saturday, Is Anxiously Awaited.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Unless he has met with some delay United States Minister Willis has now been in Honolulu a week, and it is not improbable that he has carried into effect the instructions he took with him and which have been so well kept a secret on this side of the Pacific. If he has done so, the steamer which left Honolulu Saturday will bring the news of the consequent events and will reach an outlet to the rest of the world with it on next Saturday.

Whatever reconse the administration may have determined upon to secure the restoration of Queen Liliuokalani, it is very evident that Secretary Gresham does not expect that extreme measures will have to be resorted to. The course proposed to be pursued seems to be to request the present government in the name of the United States to give way quietly to the restoration of the queen.

The Hawaiians in this city are very firm in their conviction that the government will refuse to yield to any such gentle persuasion as that. They assert their earnest belief that it will require at least a show of force to induce them to resign the reins of authority. But this opinion is not unanimous among those familiar with affairs in the islands. It is pointed out how long and how severe a strain there has been on the members of the provisional government in the uncertainty that has beset their position.

The manner and purpose of their creation, it is pointed out, shows how dependent they feel upon the United States. The absolute disapproval of them by this government will be announced to them by Minister Willis. Whatever outcry of public sentiment there is here in sympathy with them and against their deposition they will be absolutely cut off from. All they have is vitally dependent upon good order and maintenance of law in the country.

Any sort of assurance from Minister Willis that the moral influence of the United States government would be exerted to maintain a stable government by the queen and to restrain it from such vagaries and excesses as that of the constitution she sought to have adopted in January last, might tempt the members of the provisional government to step aside and trust to the United States to preserve their interests in its own way. This is what President Cleveland and Secretary Gresham hope for, though what assurances they have authorized the minister to give as to the future influence by this government in the islands is not known.

Congressman O'Neill of Massachusetts has laid before Secretary Gresham an appeal from a Boston house having large interests in the islands, which shows that all those acquainted with the conditions have not so hopeful a belief as to the outcome of the effort to restore the queen. The dispatch reads as follows:

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 11.
Please call on proper officials and request on behalf of your constituents holding property in Honolulu and throughout the kingdom that instructions be sent to the United States minister there to protect the same. We believe there is great danger of bloodshed and destruction to property. Have telegraphed Senator Hoar these facts. CHARLES BREWER & Co.

Waiting For Something to Happen.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 13.—Hawaiian Consul Wilder was disagreeably surprised when he presented a draft drawn on the provisional government at a bank and the bank refused to honor it. It was explained to him by the bank officials that they did not know what might happen to Honolulu when the contents of Secretary Gresham's letter became known there and they did not care to take any risks. Heretofore the drafts on the provisional government have been paid without question. It is also stated that merchants here are uneasy about the situation, and that they are making no shipments of freight to Honolulu on the Monowai which leaves here next Thursday. They are waiting to see what is going to happen.

Gresham Was Correct.

DENVER, Nov. 13.—F. M. English, ex-secretary to Queen Liliuokalani, who, since that lady was deposed, has been living in Denver, is exceedingly jubilant over the position taken by Secretary Gresham. He insists that the restoration of the queen would be justice done at last to a much abused sovereign. Mr. English says that the facts set forth in Secretary Gresham's letter are absolutely correct and expresses surprise that there should have been so much delay in reaching the conclusion now arrived by the state department. As for war and bloodshed, he laughs at the idea.

Where Is Minister Thurston?

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—L. A. Thurston, Hawaiian minister, has not arrived in Washington, and it is now believed that he has been speeding across the country to take the next steamer for Honolulu.

UNSATISFIED MOB.

Phil Evans' House Burned and Probably a Whole Family Murdered.

BARDSTOWN, Ky., Nov. 13.—Notwithstanding the fact that Phil Evans has been found guilty of assault and his punishment fixed at death, the mob that has been assembled at this place for the past few days is not satisfied, and another outrage has been committed. Phil Evans' home was burned to the ground and his family either perished therein or were run away by an infuriated crowd. Who committed the act is unknown. All that remains to tell the tale was a part of a chimney and a few burned logs where the house stood. Ed Hall's house, the father of Evans' victim, which is only a short distance from where Evans' house stood, was being guarded through fear the negroes would attack him and his helpless children. All is excitement and there is no telling what may yet occur.

During the night two loud blasts, sounding like an explosion of dynamite, were heard, followed by about 40 shots in rapid succession, and the good people there are at loss to know who among them could perpetrate such a deed. None of Evans' family, which consisted of his old mother, wife and little girl, can be found or heard of anywhere. Several theories are advanced, as follows: Either an angered mob was there and blew up their home with dynamite, killing all within, or drove them off and then destroyed the house. The authorities will make a thorough investigation, when it is hoped the truth will be ascertained.

In the meantime every road and every house in the quiet little place of Bardstown, Ky. is being guarded by men armed with shotguns, who fear the negroes may rise up against them, thinking they had helped in the trouble. Phil Evans now lies confined in jail, not knowing the fate of his old mother, who has stuck to him through all his trouble. The excitement has spread to this city and is the sole topic of conversation on the streets and at the houses.

RAPID TRANSPORTATION OF MAILS.

Annual Report of the General Superintendent of the Railway Service.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—General Superintendent James E. White of the railway mail service has made his annual report to the postmaster general. Upon this branch of the service depends the rapid transportation of mails. At the close of the fiscal year mails were being carried on 166,952 miles of railroads, for which 3,059 cars were used, with 6,417 railway clerks.

There were handled during the year 10,236,314.95 pieces of mail matter. This is an increase over 1888 of 49.68 per cent, while the increase in the number of clerks is but 13.86 per cent. For clerks' salaries the next year, $7,186,000 is asked and an appropriation of $3,094,000 for postal cars is recommended.

The superintendent says the stagnation of business has the effect of decreasing the mails.

He refers to the number of railroad accidents during the past year, and urges that some provision be made for the families of the postal clerks who are killed.

He also renews previous recommendations that the salaries of the clerks be increased; also, that there be a force of auxiliary clerks of 150 to be paid salaries of $250 year in addition to what they may be able to earn as substitutes. He also wants the mailcars and tenders of engines vestibuled for the safety of employees.

A special feature of the report is the recommendation of a bill making it a misdemeanor for an individual, association or organization to interfere with the passage of any train carrying the mails, and providing that any persons or representative, or representatives of an association or organization obstructing the mails shall be fined and imprisoned for each offense.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURE.

The Greatest Revolutionary Leader in Mexico Arrested.

MATAMORAS, Mex., Nov. 13.—A great sensation has been created here by the telegraphic announcement from the City of Mexico that General Juan G. Cortina, one of the greatest revolutionary leaders of Mexico, has been arrested and imprisoned in the San Juan Deullio prison by order of President Diaz for attempting to incite another revolutionary uprising against the government.

The city of Matamoras is General Cortina's old home and stamping ground. Twenty-five years ago, he was the most desperate and greatly feared man in Mexico. He ruled the Rio Grande border country from Laredo to the mouth of the river, and was in the revolutionary business as a means of gaining a livelihood. His influence was so great that he could inaugurate a powerful revolutionary movement against the Mexican government by a single pronouncement with his signature attached. His exploits during the civil war caused the United States government to lose many thousands of dollars.

When President Diaz's revolution ended in success, General Cortina was summoned to the City of Mexico, where he has been kept in constant surveillance by President Diaz ever since to prevent him from inciting further revolutions. He made his home in the capital, where he was furnished with a pension sufficient to live in good style, but his every movement has been closely watched by President Diaz's agents for the past 15 or 20 years.

DELAWARE, O., Nov. 13.—A small pocket of gas was struck by Frank Spencer at Ashley, just north of here.

CHICAGO ANARCHISTS

Commemoration Services Held in Waldheim Cemetery.

IN MEMORY OF THEIR DEAD.

Samuel Fielden, Michael Schwab and Oscar Neebe, the Three Comrades of the Executed Anarchists, Who Were Recently Pardoned From the Illinois Penitentiary Were Present and Two Them Addressed the Gathering.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Services in commemoration of the anniversary of the death of the five anarchists, Spies, Parsons, Lings, Fischer and Engel, were held yesterday at the monument erected in their memory in Waldheim cemetery. In spite of a leaden sky, from which a cold rain fell steadily throughout the day the services at the graves were attended by nearly 2,500 persons.

The occasion was made notable by the fact that Samuel Fielden, Michael Schwab and Oscar Neebe, the comrades of the executed anarchists who were sentenced to Joliet but pardoned recently by Governor Altgeld, were present at the grave, two of them, Fielden and Schwab, being the orators of the day. When Fielden, Neebe and Schwab were pardoned it was said to be a condition of their release that they should make no more anarchistic speeches, but they made them yesterday nevertheless.

The ceremonies at the cemetery were preceded by a procession which marched through some of the downtown streets. No red flags were carried, but each organization participating in the parade carried a floral emblem adorned profusely with red ribbon, upon the streamers of which were the usual anarchistic inscriptions in German.

Immediately following the band at the head of the procession and just in front of the Women's LaSalle society were six little girls dressed in red and black. One of them carried a large black shield bordered with red, upon which was the following inscription in silver letters: "November 11—Tyranny—No God, No Lord, No Slave."

Each of the five other girls wore a red dress and a white black sash, upon which was inscribed, in silver letters, the name of one of the five anarchists whose bodies lie under the monument at Waldheim.

The service began by the rendition of "Annie Laurie," the favorite song of Parsons, and then Schwab came forward to deliver his address. The earlier portion of his talk was taken up by an account of the last night in jail prior to the execution of the anarchists. He said it was the most wretched night of his life.

The speaker then reviewed shortly the situation of affairs and the causes which led up to the Haymarket massacre. He spoke of the workings of the International Arbeiter Bund and of the preparations made by capitalists against threatened outbreaks of this organization. He said: "It was this preparation by the capitalist class which led to the shooting upon innocent men, women and children and which caused our leaders to advise our followers to arm and defend themselves. This advice was perhaps foolish and imprudent. It can not be called wise under the circumstances, for in the sphere of physical power, the capitalists are far superior to the workingman. They controlled drilled men, and had at their command the best and most effective engines of destruction."

He continued to narrate the well known events which took place up to and including the throwing of the fatal bomb, in regard to which he said: "We defy the police to trace the thrower of the bomb to our ranks or to show that the man who threw it was a workingman. An investigation not conducted by the hirelings of capital would put a different light upon the matter. One thing is certain the investigation which did take place was a perversion of justice."

In relation to the pardon of Governor Altgeld, the speaker said: "The action of Governor Altgeld brings to us the hope that there are yet men of stern honesty of purpose, who have the courage to stand for the truth, and that there is a bright future before us in which truth and right shall prevail. He concluded his speech by earnestly appealing to his audience to submit all questions of difference between capital and labor to arbitration. It was the hope of the future, he said, to settle these differences peaceably by arbitration.

Fielden spoke next and said: "You have met together to commemorate the memory of the men who lie under yonder stone. You have met here to protest against the injustice of their taking off. It is indeed an injustice that you should be forced to meet together to protest against this wrong. Not often in the history of governments has such a crime been done. The world knows that if these men had lived the interests of the capitalistic classes in keeping the workingman from his own, and in constant subjection and misery, would have been jeopardized. Today, we stand in the face of a society based not on equal rights of the people but based on the rights of privilege, and the only thing that gives us courage is that here and there a man rises up like Governor Altgeld, who has the courage of his convictions."

"These men were men of law and order. They believed in peace, and whatever their opinions of practical solution of these questions the predominating thought in the mind of each was for peace. The future will give them justice. The honest man can afford to wait. We, who believe these men died for a good cause can mourn for them sincerely. All over the world today the hearts of the poor and lowly turn to this spot. Tears are in the eye and sorrow in the heart. I beseech of you that you go to your homes and resolve to do your duty in righting this wrong."

After the singing of another song the assembly dispersed, returning to the city at 5 o'clock.

FIRE IN A CHURCH.

A Panic Narrowly Averted by the Minister's Presence of Mind.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—A serious panic was narrowly averted last night during a fire which occurred in the Belden Avenue Baptist church. The structure is the largest of its denomination on the North Side and has a seating capacity of 900. It was about one-third occupied last night when the Rev. H. M. Barbour arose to deliver his sermon, the text of which was from Genesis, "Escape For Thy Life." He had spoken but a few words when A. A. Mullen, one of the congregation, stepped up to the pulpit and whispered that the church was on fire and that it would be well to immediately dismiss the congregation.

Mr. Barbour quietly told his audience that circumstances had arisen which would compel him to discontinue the services, and that it was his desire that everybody should leave the church quietly, but as rapidly as possible. The congregation at once began to file out, and as sparks were beginning to fall from the roof some people who understood the danger began to push and crowd at the doors.

"Keep your seats for a moment," shouted Mr. Barbour. "There is no danger, but don't crowd the doors."

This quieted the rising panic, and although the exodus was finished with much more celerity and confusion than had marked its commencement, nobody was injured. The fire, which originated from a gasjet, damaged the church to the extent of $7,500.

HONDURAS APOLOGIZED.

That Government Regrets Firing on the Stars and Stripes.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Secretary Gresham has given out the following: "When authentic information was received at the department of the firing upon the American mail steamer Costa Rica at Anapala on the 6th inst. because of the refusal of the captain to deliver up Borilla, a passenger, General Young, the United States minister to Honduras, under instructions sent by Secretary Gresham by direction of the president, protested against the act and demanded an apology. The government of Honduras promptly disavowed the conduct of its officers and expressed sincere regret for the occurrence." The apology on the part of the Honduras government is entirely satisfactory to the United States, and it is believed that this will end the incident.

A FATHER MURDERED.

His Two Sons Arrested and One of Them Confesses.

WAUSAU, Wis., Nov. 13.—William Habeeb's mysterious disappearance from his home, near Edgar, was cleared up yesterday by the neighbors finding his body about 80 rods from his home in the woods in a newly made grave with a tree fallen across it and the brush piled over it. His son, Herman, aged 19, confessed to killing him with an ax, and was assisted by his brother, Otto, aged 17, in secreting his body. Both were arrested and brought to this city.

The father had for some time past, it is asserted, been spending all his money for liquor and misusing his family. During a quarrel nearly four weeks ago he abused Hermann until the boy, wild with rage, knocked him down with an ax and then cut his throat.

Will Try It Again.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The St. James Gazette publishes an interview with Mr. George Watson, the designer of the Valkyrie, in which Mr. Watson said he considered the Vigilant the faster boat on an all-around course, but expressed the belief that the American boat would not stand equal chances in English waters. When asked if there was any prospect of his receiving orders to build another yacht to compete for the America's cup, Mr. Watson said: "In Scotland we are not accustomed to sit down quietly under defeat."

Three School Girls Drowned.

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 13.—At the Birle Indian school yesterday three girl pupils, ages ranging from 10 to 13, were drowned while crossing a creek in the school grounds. A fourth pupil and the teacher, Miss McLeod, narrowly escaped drowning while attempting to save the others.

Rolling Mills Burned.

WHEELING, Nov. 13.—The entire rolling mill plant of the Whitaker Iron and Steel company of this city was destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated to be from $85,000 to $100,000. The insurance is $72,000. Four hundred men are thrown out of employment. The mill will be rebuilt.

"After the Ball."

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—Charles K. Harris of Milwaukee, the author of the wellknown song, "After the Ball," was married yesterday to Miss Cora Lehrberg of Chicago. Their future residence will be in Milwaukee.

Two Jockeys Killed.

KANSAS, Nov. 13.—In the race for the Prix du Trocadero, at the Autuill track yesterday, two horses fell and killed the jockeys who rode them. In view of the deaths and of the recent death of Jockey Rowel in a hurdle at Autuill, there is talk to the effect that the police will close the course for the season.

A PRINTER'S PLEA.

He Asks For Justice In the Name of Our Government.

NOW IN PRISON AT HAVANA.

Placed There Without a Trial and Without the Prospects of One For Months to Come—He Cites Other Cases and Calls the Attention of the State Department at Washington to the Outrage.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The World prints a letter received from P. C. Oglesby, who states that he is undergoing confinement in the royal prison at Havana, where he was placed without trial, and without the prospect of one for months to come. The charge against him, he says, was "assaulting the military police." Proceeding Oglesby says:

"The simple facts in the case are that on the evening of Oct. 28, about 10 o'clock, I was assaulted by two soldiers of the order public (military police) who bound my arms behind my back, ransacked my pockets, dragged me before an officer and preferred a charge against me for assaulting them."

"By some means the fact of my arrest had reached the American consulate, and about an hour after my arrival at the prison I was visited by a Spaniard who informed me that he was a clerk of the consul general. That functionary took down my statement, took my passports and bade me goodbye. I have never heard from him since or from the consulate."

"Meantime I am confined in a ward with 21 malefactors, whose offenses range all the way from fraud to murder. For a bed there are soft granite flags. Twice daily the prisoners are fed with food a well bred hog would decline with disdain. There are present any amount of vermin and filth to be expected under such circumstances."

"Perhaps if the press of America calls the attention of the state department to the outrage and the fact that similar outrages are frequently committed upon American citizens visiting Havana, there might be something done. There is now confined in the same ward with myself, a young American named Harry Howard, a native of Boston, who has been waiting trial for five months, with no prospect of getting one in the near future. The charge against him is 'aggression de fuerza armada.' The fact is that he defended himself when attacked by four soldiers."

"I am a native of Georgia, 28 years of age. I am well known in Nashville, Birmingham, Chattanooga, Savannah and other cities of the south as a printer, proofreader, telegraph editor, editorial writer and all-round newspaper man. I came to Cuba for the purpose of obtaining data for a work I have been engaged on for a year past, prosecuting it solely on my own account."

Well Known in Nashville.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—A special to The World from Nashville, Tenn., says: Pierre C. Oglesby is known to all the printers in Nashville. He came here eight or nine years ago, arriving on a freight train. He was a native of the piney regions of Georgia, and had a rich streak of native humor that occasionally found vent in character sketches that were readily accepted by local newspapers. Oglesby also read proof occasionally, and when he left here took a position as a proofreader on the Savannah Morning News and held it for quite a while. Oglesby claimed to be a nephew of ex-Governor Oglesby of Illinois. No one here has heard from him in some time.

MRS. ROOSEVELT DEAD.

Wife of the Secretary of the American Embassy in London.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—A telegram from London announces that Mrs. Roosevelt, the wife of the secretary of the American embassy, died at Ascot yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Roosevelt had been ill for some time, and it was said that she had taken an overdose of laudanum to alleviate her pain. It is supposed that owing to her weakened condition the drug proved fatal.

Mrs. Roosevelt was a prominent New York society woman and before her marriage was Miss Helen Astor, one of William Astor's daughters. Her sister is Mrs. J. Coleman Drayton. After Mrs. Roosevelt's marriage she confined her home entertainments to a small circle of friends. Her house was replete with the most costly art treasures and her library was one of the most interesting in New York.

Mrs. Astor sailed on the Lucania the other day in the hope of reaching her daughter before she died. The Astor family will probably go in mourning for the next year or two, and will do very little entertaining. It is thought probable that Mr. Roosevelt will now resign his office of secretary and return to New York with Mrs. Astor.

It is said that when he received the appointment to the embassy he looked forward to a brilliant social season in London. Mrs. Coleman Drayton had intended to re-enter New York society this winter, but her sister's death will prevent her doing so.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 13.—Five men have been arrested for looting river towns, including four cases of postoffice robbery. The work was chiefly done between here and Wheeling. The men arrested are: Frank Belford, Pyle, John Shanklin, Frank Bailey and John Bailey. The latter confessed, implicating the others. Enough booty has been identified on them to convict them.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Increasing cloudiness; light showers; colder.

ANOTHER Kentucky office-seeker has been able to get there. Colonel William H. Able, of Louisville, has been appointed an Indian Agent, with a salary of $2,000 a year.

It is estimated that 100,000 Democrats remained away from the polls in New York State. When these 100,000 Democrats turn out and vote, there will be no Republican jollification in the Empire State.

THE statement in Republican papers that Dr. Logan defeated J. J. Smoot for State Senator in the Fleming-Bath-Rowan-Menifee-Carter district is not true, according to the BULLETIN's information. Smoot's majority is placed at 309.

JOHN SHERMAN is about the slickest of the lot, says the Philadelphia Times. He has the sublime cheek to claim the repeal of the silver purchase law as a vindication of himself and his party and that, too, after he had assured the Democrats that "unconditional repeal" was out of the question, and giving them a scolding for not accepting a compromise.

JUDGE DAILEY, of the Supreme Court at Indianapolis, has rendered a decision holding the peculiar election bribery law of Indiana constitutional. By its terms a man who attempts to purchase another's vote must pay the man approached $300, and may suffer imprisonment besides. A law of this kind is needed in Kentucky to effectually put an end to corruption at the polls. The secret ballot has done much to suppress the vote-buyers, but it is a well-known fact that money is still used to some extent in our elections. About the only way to get at the vote-buyers is to adopt a law like the one referred to above. Here is some work for the next Legislature.

"It is all very fine for the calamity howlers," remarks the Hunterdon (N. J.) Democrat, "to say the stringency of the times is owing to the fact that the Democrats have control of the Government. Who was responsible for the Sherman Silver act? The Republican party! Who squandered billions of dollars during the most extravagant administration of Harrison? The Republicans! Who passed the infamous McKinley bill? The Republicans! What were Wanamaker? Tanner? Raum? Republicans! In what condition did Grover Cleveland find the United States Treasury when he was elected in 1884? Empty! In what condition did Grover Cleveland leave the United States Treasury in 1889? Full to overflowing, over $140,000,000 surplus! In what condition did Grover Cleveland find the United States Treasury March 4th, 1892? Empty! What then must be the conclusion of the voter? That Democratic governing is by the people and for the people; that Republicanism is extravagance, and that wherever Democratic government is found, in city, county or State, economical government is also found."

KENTUCKY CROPS.

What the State Commissioner of Agriculture Says in His Monthly Report.

In his monthly report, State Commissioner of Agriculture McDowell says: "The weather has been fine for all kinds of farm work since the rain in middle of September. Up to that time very little plowing for wheat sowing, but since then the farmers have pushed their work with all their force, and the crop has been put in in fine condition. The early wheat came up well, and is growing finely, and will be in fine condition to stand the winter. In some sections the area will not be as large as last year, but the average will not fall much short. It would seem that the very low price of wheat would rather discourage the farmers from sowing a large crop this year; but a farmer rotating his crop has so much ground that he wants to sow in wheat every year. The State of Kentucky is now recognized by Secretary Morton as one of the principal wheat-growing States.

"The fall has been fine for drying up corn; all the early corn was well dried before it was put in the shock, and is in fine condition for cribbing. The quality of the crop will not average with last year, as the crop of '92 would reach nearly 100 per cent. in quality. In many localities the late corn has been very badly hurt by the frosts, which lowers the condition in both quality and quantity. As quite a number of farmers are feeding their fall hogs on wheat, it will save very much of their corn crop for winter use for other kinds of stock.

"The reports for tobacco are more varied than any other crop. They range from 20 to 110 per cent. Reports from the counties of Henry, Owen and others are that the tobacco is curing up badly, the color very dark; from some other sections they report much of the crop cut green to save from frosts, and in many other places it was caught by it. Shelby and Spencer report that their late tobacco is better than their early, caused by late rains. I could name a number of counties that report good crops, but all together the reports are not flattering. "As to the number of hogs to be fed this fall, the indications are that the shortage will be as great as that of last fall. It was thought that, with an abundant crop of corn, the shortage could be made good in twelve months, but such has not been the case. Too many brood sows were fattened and sold last fall, because of the high price, and it will not do to rely on gilts to raise as many pigs as old sows."

A COLORED man found a large new dirk knife on the Second street extension late Saturday afternoon. It is an ugly-looking weapon, something like the knife used in the Goodloe-Swope tragedy a few years ago. The blade is fully six inches long, and is thrown open by pressing on a small spring in the side of the handle. The colored man didn't succeed in getting it open until shown how the thing worked by some parties on an electric car. Who lost it?

Those who like a theatrical entertainment that will make them laugh heartily on the principle of sitting down and taking it in without the necessity of doing much thinking to follow the developments of the story, will find "A Breezy Time" to possess all the requirements and to spare. All the members of the company in "A Breezy Time" lend their best efforts in song, dance and all-round liveliness to fill up the gap as to plot or complications, and so ably it is done that their absence appears unthought of. The broad shoulders of E. B. Fitz carry a good deal of the responsibility for keeping the audience continually amused, and Miss Kathryn Webster, a very accomplished lady.—Philadelphia Times.

Is Life Worth Living?

That depends upon the Liver. If the Liver is inactive the whole system is out of order—the breath is bad, digestion poor, head dull or aching, energy and hopefulness gone, the spirit is depressed, a heavy weight exists after eating, with general despondency and the blues. The Liver is the housekeeper of the health; and a harmless, simple remedy that acts like Nature, does not constipate afterwards or require constant taking, does not interfere with business or pleasure during its use, makes Simmons Liver Regulator a medical perfection.

JOLLY CINCIANNATIANS.

They Play a Neat Joke on Their Police Judge, the Hon. E. B. Gregg.

When Judge E. B. Gregg and his crew of buccaneers undertake to walk over the iron-clad laws and ordinances of Maysville with hob-nailed shoes, he will find it as dizzy a performance as a trip on the Ferris wheel. We won't have it, so we won't, and Judge Gregg and Willis P. Sharp, Casper Hopple, John Hanna, C. B. Forbes, George Givens, Dave B. Foltz and R. H. West narrowly escaped with their lives and rabbit artillery on Saturday last, although they perhaps do not know it.

His Honor of the Cincinnati Police Court wore a pale and frightened cast of countenance when he was marched into the august presence of Mayor Pearce, on Saturday morning, to answer the charge of failing to pay wharfage on their man-of-war "Dart," which was laying in front of the city, loaded to the guards with combustible and explosive ammunition.

Captain Fitzgerald ran across two of the aforesaid pirates who were laying in supplies for their "man-of-war" and promptly nailed the Commodore of the craft, Willis P. Sharp, and John Hanna, master of the poop-deck, and by the assistance of Officer Crawford succeeded in capturing the above named.

The Commodore and Master of the poop-deck vainly endeavored to seduce Officer Crawford by bribery and various forms of artful corruption to let them escape and go on board, but that officer proved himself unapproachable. Mr. Robert Toup, playing the character of an Enquirer reporter, also resisted their tears and entreaties, and these gentlemen were in the very deepest mire of agony and despair when they were marched into the police court and there found that the rest of the "Dart's" crew had shared the same fate. Captain Fitzgerald, however, took pity on their forlorn condition, and a yard-wide smile of relief appeared upon Judge Gregg's face, when, upon motion of Fitz., the case was continued until next summer at 3 o'clock p. m., with the tiger's milk all around on the Judge.

The whole affair was a joke perpetrated by some of the party on the Judge and was originated, designed and fixed up by Mr. Casper Hopple and executed to perfection with the assistance of Captain Fitzgerald, Joe Crawford and the lively and capable co-operation of Bob Toup, correspondent (?).

A finer set of jolly fellows have seldom struck the town and each and all of them know how to take and appreciate a joke and return it, as Fitz. found to his cost when he bid Judge Gregg good-bye and found his hand smeared with soft soap. By the way, was it soap?

THE Supreme Court of Indiana has decided a case of interest to saloon-keepers. The use of screens by saloon-keepers has caused ordinances throughout the State to be passed forbidding it. The court holds that where municipal corporations pass ordinances the laws must be reasonable. The use of blinds, shutters, colored glass and screens in business houses and dwellings is one of the conveniences of civilized life.

THE C. and O. people are justly proud of the road's World's Fair record. It shared in the great overcharge of business due to the Fair, and closed the season without injury to a single passenger. Furthermore, their great increase in business was handled with fidelity to the train's schedule. All this good result is attributable partly to the block system, in operation over the whole line, but still more, perhaps, to the general efficiency which characterizes the whole service of the road.

IN OCEAN'S DEPTHS.

STRANGE CREATURES OF THE DEEP BROUGHT TO LIGHT.

Animal Life That Falls to Pieces When the Pressure of the Water No Longer Holds It Together—The Bottom of the Sea. What It Is Like.

The new submarine world now explored and mapped out presents a very different picture from that painted for us by the poets. But a short time has elapsed since the bottom of the ocean was supposed to be the counterpart of the face of the earth above water—with hills and valleys, with precipitous mountains lifting toward the surface and profound gorges sinking to unfathomable depths. The ocean floor is far less diversified than the land.

Here and there, to be sure, islands in midocean are the summits of enormous mountains, rising more or less abruptly from a generally level surface, and the sea lying over a narrow, depressed region in the northwestern Pacific reaches its greatest depth. But this is exceptional. In its general character the ocean bottom consists of vast flat or slightly undulating plains. An extraordinary circumstance that has been noticed with interest and that always creates surprise when first learned is the entire absence of foreign matter in the deeper part of the ocean's floor.

Of all the vessels lost in midocean; of all the human beings that have been drowned; of all the marine animals that have perished; of all the clay, sand and gravel let fall by dissolving icebergs; of all the various substances drifted from every shore by shifting currents, not a trace remains, but in their place water from 1,000 to 2,500 fathoms in depth covers the uniform deposit of thick, bluish, tenacious slime called globigerina ooze. A bit of this under a powerful lens is a revelation of beauty not readily forgotten. The ooze is composed almost entirely of the daintiest, most delicately beautiful shells imaginable.

At depths greater than 2,500 fathoms the bottom of the sea consists mainly of products arising from exposure, for almost incalculable periods, to the chemical action of sea water, of pumice and other volcanic matters. This finally results in the formation of the red clay deposits that are considered characteristic of the profoundest depths of the ocean. Carbonate of lime, which in the form of the shells of foraminifera, makes up so large a part of the globigerina ooze, is here almost entirely absent.

Sea water is very nearly a universal solvent, and before any shell, large or small, reaches the bottom of these tremendous abysses it is chemically eaten up, literally dissolved—a result which the enormous pressure of the water must materially hasten. At 1,000 fathoms the weight of the water pressing on all sides of an object immersed to that depth is very nearly one ton to the square inch, or more than 100 times that sustained at the sea level, and at the greatest depths the pressure is so increased that it would seem nothing could withstand it. In fact, heavy metal cylinders let down with the sounding apparatus are sometimes, being drawn up again to the surface, found bent and collapsed; strongly made glass vessels which the metal enclosed are shattered into fragments.

In the profoundest abysses of the sea are strange forms of life that never, save when brought up by the trawl, see the upper light. The work carried on by means of the United States fish commission vessel, the Albatross, has established the fact that forms of sea life inhabiting upper waters may descend to about 1,200 feet from the surface, but that below this, to a depth of 300 or 350 fathoms, a barren zone intervenes where marine life seems absent. But still deeper, strange to say, has been discovered an abundant and varied fauna, new to science, living under conditions of tremendous pressure and paucity of the life sustaining element of oxygen that induced an eminent zoologist to say quite recently, "What we know of the greatest ocean depths forbids us to expect to find them inhabited by living organisms." Here indeed survive forms of life the like of which no inhabitant of the upper world, not even the sun himself, has looked upon before the dredges of the Challenger, the Albatross, the Blake and similarly equipped vessels dragged up marine creatures from congenial cold and dark.

It might reasonably be supposed that these denizens of great sea depths would be built more firmly and strongly than surface animals to resist the pressure of the element in which they live, but it is just the contrary. The most universal characteristic of these creatures is the looseness and flabbiness of texture they exhibit. Indeed they seem to need the excessive pressure of the water about them to keep their parts together, for when they are brought to the surface they are ready to fall to pieces. It is a problem, so strangely are some of them formed, how they can move from place to place. Were they not entirely below the disturbing element of wave action, they would, to all appearances, be helpless.

Inhabiting these abyssal spaces, as completely cut off from communication with the upper waters as we are from the inhabitants of other planets, we can only vaguely speculate on their habits and judge their manners of life from their somewhat remote analogies to the surface species nearest akin to them. Plant life is entirely absent from their place of abode, and although they doubtless prey upon each other some original sources of food supply must of course be conjectured to exist.—Cosmopolitan.

ATTEMPTED LYNCHING.

Militia Called Out and the Mob Failed to Get the Prisoner.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 13.—For nearly a week past a young man named Walker has been on trial at Orlando for complicity in the murder of old man Marot at Macdonald's Station, in June last. Saturday he was acquitted on a rather doubtful alibi.

An Orlando special to The Times-Union last night says:

The sequel to the acquittal of Walker yesterday occurred late last night, when a mob went to the jail and attempted to gain access, apparently intending to shoot Walker in his cell. All the afternoon excited men gathered on the street corners and discussed the verdict. After nightfall men began collecting from the neighborhood of the crime—generally on horseback and armed with shotguns. A little before 11 o'clock they raided the foundry and captured a number of sledgehammers and crowbars and started for the jail, intending to beat a hole in the wall and gain access to the corridor, whence they could readily shoot the prisoner.

Sheriff Anderson hurriedly gathered a few men and prepared to guard the jail, while he sent word to Judge Bryan to order out the militia. The mob came up, expecting no resistance, but when they found the jail guarded by the militia, they were hampered by the lack of a leader.

About 2 o'clock this morning the mob dispersed. The guards remained under arms till morning.

The mob was composed not only of the best citizens on the line of the F. C. and P. railroad, but many good citizens of Orlando. They made no attempt at concealment, and probably at no time did they exceed 100 men. It is hardly probable that Walker will be tried again. Everyone believes him guilty of murder. Even some of the jury say they only gave him the benefit of the doubt. No further attempt at violence is expected.

STEAMER ARRIVES FROM BRAZIL.

The Captain Gives Details of the Recent Happenings There.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The steamer Melbourne, Captain Grimes, from Santos and Bahia, Brazil, has just arrived at this port. The Melbourne left Santos on Oct. 18. The people of Santos, which is only beginning to recover from its terrible yellow fever visitation, are loyal to the Peixoto government, and it is most unlikely that Mello and his revolutionary party will succeed, either by means of force or persuasion in their efforts to induce influential merchants of that important port to look with favor upon the insurgents' cause.

Shortly before the Melbourne left Santos, two of Mello's fleet of warships had appeared outside the harbor, but no demonstration was made. Instead, the ships proceeded south to the Island of Santo Catherine, and forcibly seized the plentiful provisions and other supplies warehoused there.

By order of President Peixoto the harbor and river of Santos had been powerfully fortified. Several large guns had been sent down from Rio Janeiro and mounted on strong positions at the entrance to the harbor. Business was flourishing in Santos, and the blockade which Mello threatened to establish had apparently proven ineffectual.

At Bahia tranquility also prevailed and the residents preserve their loyalty to the Peixoto government.

While the Melbourne was in the harbor of Rio some time since, discharging fresh meat and cattle from Buenos Ayres, Mello's forces attempted to seize a portion of her cargo, but troops coming to her rescue, Mello's officers desisted.

FIRE IN FORT WAYNE.

Theater and Hotel Destroyed and Printing Office Damaged.

FORT WAYNE, Nov. 13.—Fire broke out at 1 a. m. in the theater of James Geary, and in a very short time property to the amount of from $50,000 to $75,000 was destroyed. The fire broke out in the theater stage shortly after the people had left the house, though the origin of the flames is unknown. The building was a tinder box, and the fire department was unable to stay the progress of the flames.

The Daily Gazette adjoined the theater building on the west, and the Aldine hotel, a 4-story building on the east. Flames were communicated to both buildings. The wind was favorable for The Gazette building and the damage done there was not so heavy. The hotel building was an almost new structure, finely furnished, but was not constructed as fireproof and the flames soon got such control that the firemen could do nothing but prevent the total destruction of surrounding property.

The guests in the hotel escaped, but many very narrowly, and but few of their belongings were saved. The hotel was owned by D. N. Foster and his loss on the building will be about $35,000. J. A. Shaplar was the landlord, and his loss was $3,000, with no insurance. The Alpine printing company was located in the hotel building, and its loss is about $8,000, with much less insurance. The insurance covers about one-half the loss.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER.

Walter Plummer Charged With Killing a Man For Money.

BRYAN, O., Nov. 13.—The trial of Walter Plummer for the murder of Arthur Brown takes place in the criminal court here this week. Brown's body was found on the morning of May 4, 1892, with the brains beaten out with a bludgeon. George and Michael Burchell of this village were arrested, and despite their protests of innocence, were each sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

The subsequent statement of George Burchell led to the indictment and arrest of Plummer and William Elkins. All the parties to the suit live here. The motive for the murder of Brown is thought to have been robbery, as his pockets were rifled. Elkins' trial will be held next month. The case has been the cause celebre in northwestern Ohio during the past year.
